For those of you who may have been out of town, during the year-end period, we have captured on print our spectacular Christmas display, themed Winter Wonderland. Greeting guests, upon their entrance into the hotel's main lobby is an outstanding masterpiece, which encompasses a total of 36,000 meticulously chiseled sugar pieces. The brainchild of hotel's pastry chef Uwe Richart, this exquisite creation has won the hearts of many admirers, and hit the headlines. Resembling a snow-clad mountainous scene, Chef Richart's hallmark of excellence is apparent from the detailed touches - featured in the picturesque White Christmas setting are 100 Santa Claus' 150 quaint chalets and 600 reindeer. As a perfectionist, Chef Richart subscribes to the philosophy of giving only the best: whether it is oven-fresh bread, Danish pastries, crispy croissants, melt-in the mouth cakes, tantalising tarts or luscious chocolates. Chef Richart's bagful of goodies can be had at the Melaka Grill, Club Bar, Pizza Ria and at Banquet functions. Watch out for the maestro's sugarworks at forthcoming festivals!

PJ Hilton also welcomes Chef Cheng Joo Leng as the hotel's new executive chef. With his vast culinary experience and exposure both locally and internationally, Chef Cheng certainly adds 'spice' as one of the first few locals to hold an executive chef's position in an internationally renowned hotel group like Hilton International.

SAILING SUCCESS

ONE annual happening that should be included in the country's calendar of events is the Raja Muda's International Regatta organised by the Royal Selangor Yacht Club.

Since the first RMIR took off nervously in 1990, the event has been a great success among the yachting circle all over the world and has been described by participants as "the regatta with the most fun" in this part of the world.

It was no empty boast when club commodore Johan Ariff said that the 1993 RMIR which took place from Nov 20 to 29 was a "curtain raiser for the Visit Malaysia Year 1994."

In a way, the first VMY in 1990 had inspired the club to organise the regatta. Besides, there was the King's Cup Race in Thailand that attracted numerous international participants who inadvertently passed through the Straits of Malacca enroute to Phuket.

The event always falls in November to take advantage of the North-Easterly winds. What better promoters of tourism can we find than in these Regatta participants, who sail all round the world, to sing praises of our country and its friendly people? Of course, the competitive element is unavoidable. But past participants will remember the event as the most fun-filled regatta. No other yachting event offers so many parties and prizes.

Thus, the three-pronged objectives of the regatta were set: Firstly, to provide the boating community in South-East Asia the opportunity to take part in an enjoyable race of an international standard.

Secondly, to provide a continuous festive atmosphere along the entire route by hosting social events at each port of call and lastly, to show off our beautiful country to all the international participants in the race.

The regatta consists of three legs: Port Klang-Pangkor Island; Pangkor Island-Penang and finally Penang-Langkawi. At Penang and Langkawi, there are triangular races.

There are parties and dinners at every stop. The event is a good combination of grit and fun. No wonder some participants keep coming back every year!

Th success of the inaugural regatta was beyond the organisers' wildest dreams. It attracted the participation of 42 yachts from 10 countries.

It inspired the committee to turn it into an annual event. The second year, participation swelled to 64 boats and 300 participants representing 15 countries. But this was due to the inclusion of several yachts from the Europa '92 (Round the World Rally 1991-1992) fleet.

The third regatta was another success although the number of boats dropped to 55 representing 12 countries. The last one saw 44 yachts representing 13 countries.

Reflecting the success and the recognition by local authorities what followed was the subsequent participation of the National Tourism Promotion board, the Penang tourism body as well as the Penang State Government in the form of sponsorships.
